*Giving the address is optional but, if provided, we will use it to help identify the proposed beneficiaries when the time comes; it is therefore also helpful if you advise us if any of the addresses change. If beneficiaries do change address, and we do not know their whereabouts, we will endeavour to establish their details from the client's legal personal representatives.

Knowing a previous address can still be useful when trying to identify the beneficiary when taking into account the client's wishes. However, if you do not know a beneficiary's current address, or do not wish to divulge it, you can leave it blank.

Nomination priority in section 2

This is not a mandatory field but is for the client to give a priority order for their nominated beneficiaries, if required. See the example below.

1. Name of beneficiary	<input type="text" value="Mrs Jane Smith"/>	Proportion
	Relationship to the client <input type="text" value="Wife"/>	<input type="text" value="1"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="%"/>
Nomination priority	<input type="text" value="I firstly nominate my wife, but if she dies before me, or is alive when I die but does not wish to receive any payment, I nominate my two children below."/>
2. Name of beneficiary	<input type="text" value="Mr John Smith"/>	Proportion
	Relationship to the client <input type="text" value="Son"/>	<input type="text" value="5"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="%"/>
3. Name of beneficiary	<input type="text" value="Mrs Susan Brown (née Smith)"/>	Proportion
	Relationship to the client <input type="text" value="Daughter"/>	<input type="text" value="5"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="0"/>	<input type="text" value="%"/>

Note - It is important that you include the names of any beneficiaries as well as the percentage applicable. For example we cannot accept 'grandchildren' as a nomination, because some benefits are only available to named beneficiaries.

Taxation

Whether beneficiaries will be liable to pay tax or not depends on your client's age when they die, the type of benefit being taken and how long it takes to finalise.

What is payable tax free?

- Charity lump sum death benefits.
- The following types of benefit set up within two years of notification of death where the client dies before age 75.
 - Beneficiary drawdown or annuity.
 - Lump sums within the individual's Lump Sum and Death Benefit Allowance (LSDBA)*.

What is taxable?

- All benefits (other than a charity lump sum) where the client dies over age 75.
- The amount of any lump sum death benefit (other than a charity lump sum) that exceeds the remaining LSDBA*, set up within two years of notification of death, where the client dies before age 75.

* However, to prevent double counting, any lump sums paid from funds crystallised before 6 April 2024 are not tested against LSDBA because they will have been tested previously against the lifetime allowance.

What tax is due?

Individual beneficiaries

- All benefits that are taxable, regardless of the reason, are taxed at the individual's marginal income tax rate, which is their highest rate of tax.

Non-Individual beneficiaries

- Where benefits are taxable because they exceed LSDBA, marginal rate income tax applies. For a discretionary trust this is 45% (first £500 tax free). For other non-individuals, e.g. a company or a legal representative, marginal rate is the basic rate of tax for those entities.
- Where benefits are taxable because the member dies over age 75, the tax charge is the special lump sum death benefit charge which is 45%.
- Where benefits are taxable because the lump sum is not paid within two years of notification of death, the tax charge is the special lump sum death benefit charge which is 45%.

 If a lump sum is paid to a discretionary trust, then paid to a beneficiary who is a UK individual, that beneficiary will be given a tax credit for the 45% special lump sum death benefit charge. They may be able to reclaim some or all of this from HMRC.
